After months of public engagement, Edmonton has become the first major Canadian municipality to eliminate minimum parking requirements from its Zoning Bylaw. Effective July 2, 2020, developers, homeowners, and businesses now have the ability to determine how much on-site parking they need based on their operations, activities, or lifestyles. With the exception of barrier-free and accessible parking, which will continue to be required at rates comparable to today along with further restrictions downtown and in transit-oriented developments, the move is intended to reduce Edmonton's parking oversupply by allowing the free market to dictate how much parking is required at any given location. Open parking is intended to not only reduce the escalating costs of rents and house pricing by correctly matching parking supply with demand (the average surface stall costs on average between $6,000 and $7,000 and underground stalls can be tens of thousands of dollars each), but to increase developable areas within the city, slowing urban sprawl and making Edmonton less auto-centric.

While the change is certainly transformative, as the change pertains to development permits, it will be gradual. As an Edmontonian you don't need to worry about the parking lot at your favourite grocer disappearing overnight, but you may need to think about how you will access a new doctor's office or get your morning coffee at a new café or visit a friend across the city in the future. Would you walk, ride your bike, take transit, take a rideshare, leave earlier than normal to be assured of on-site parking, or choose to an alternate option that might be further away but more conveniently accessible by car? Would you decide to forgo car ownership and move into a residence without onsite parking, or would you perhaps choose a home with a single stall and share a vehicle amongst the household? Would you be comfortable with your choice in both the heat of the summer and cold of the winter? These are some of the questions that we may need to address as the effects of open parking are felt over the coming years.

For residents of Parkallen, the impacts of open parking are both more nuanced and more personal. Parking is already a hotly debated topic amongst neighbours, and although none of us formally own the street in front of our home, we are nearly united in frustration when another car takes "our" street stall. Where previous developments in Parkallen would have come attached to stipulated minimum parking requirements as part of the application, moving forward this number will be solely at the discretion of the applicant. As a neighbour of a proposed high-density low-rise development, you may be concerned about how this will impact congestion on your street; as a homeowner planning to build a garden suite for an elderly relative who doesn't drive, you may be excited at the cost savings now available to you.

While open parking is here to stay, as a community member you do have several avenues to help shape how it is realized in Parkallen. First, keep an eye on your mailbox for development notices from the City of Edmonton regarding properties near you; responding to these is the best way that you as a neighbour and we as a community can influence proposed developments. Second, follow Parkallen on Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, or download the Nextdoor app; we use these platforms to get the word out about surveys focused on collecting community feedback about specific City of Edmonton proposals. Most importantly, talk with your neighbours; learning about how and why they park and sharing your own situation is the best way to understand why parking looks the way it does on your own street, and how it might change in the future. For more information on open parking in Edmonton, please visit www.edmonton.ca/makingspace.

Allison organizes senior's dinners and invites youth from Parkallen to volunteer to help prepare, serve and clean up. It is so lovely to see the generations together this way.

Sonya has made a beautiful garden in front of Parkallen School. It is absolutely gorgeous! She put signs in the garden to tell the children what the plants are called in English and Mandarin. Such a thoughtful thing to do and a great gift to our community. She volunteers in so many ways. Thank you Sonya.

I nominate Jan for all the invaluable work she has done and continues to do for the neighbourhood! Her dedication is amazing!

> I nominate Rebecca Johnson! She makes living in Parkallen fun! I love having a great neighbour!

Thank you Todd for giving the boys of Parkallen the gift of soccer. You are an amazing coach and keep our boys occupied and out of trouble.

Thank you Randy for the work you did with the Running Club at Parkallen School. You introduced so many of our children to running and have them confidence in themselves.

Leanne is really the backbone of this community! She works so hard for Parkallen and is always willing to lend a hand--plus, she's hilarious!

Bonnie and Lee always take the time to have conversations with our children, offer to buy us Starbucks and they are always willing to lend a hand. Miyako, Mike, Taiyo, and Tsukino Walker have been welcoming and kind to us from the day we moved in next door. They are always friendly and willing to make conversation with our young children. Taiyo and Tsukino have played with and now babysit our children, who adore them. The whole family helps us out when we need a hand and are just really good people.

Marlene was instrumental in setting up our beautiful community garden. I am grateful to her every time I walk by. My children have spent many happy hours looking at the flowers and vegetables and eating the raspberries and peas. The garden was a gift to us all. Meghan has built a spectacular soccer program that has given countless hours of joy to so many children and the families and coaches that watch them learn and grow. She is a treasure for the community.

She is really involved in the community and cares a lot.

I nominate Elissa for placing candles on the sidewalks and cheering up the entire neighbourhood!

GREEN CIRCLE NEEDS YOUR HELP

Dear Parkallen Residents,

My name is Jenny Proctor and I am the President of the Green Circle Preschool Association located in Parkallen Elementary. I am looking to raise money to help keep our community's Preschool operating through the challenges we have been facing during the COVID-19 pandemic.

As we are located in Parkallen Elementary, we must follow the school's re-entry guidelines which no longer permit parents into the school. In previous years, our parent volunteers would assist our teacher in the classroom, filling in as a provincially required staff member while reducing the cost of running a preschool. This was a special time where parents could contribute their time and watch the children become part of the classroom community with same-aged peers. Despite all that is happening, we are determined to provide a safe place for our young children to learn and grow with their peers.

I am writing to ask you to support our preschool. Your donation will go towards the unexpected cost of $13,000 for hiring a Teacher's Assistant. Green Circle is a non-profit organization and registered charity, we will issue tax receipts for all donations over $20. Our preschool has been in operation since 1972 and has provided a nurturing preschool experience for many of our community members and their children. Please help us keep Green Circle Preschool a safe place for children to learn through this pandemic and make a donation today.

Ways to donate: Send a cheque payable to "The Green Circle Preschool Association" to Green Circle Preschool 6703 112 Street NW Edmonton, AB T6H 3J9

Online: https://charity.gofundme.com/donate/charity/thegreencirclepreschoolassociation,

Thank you in advance for your contribution and support.

Sincerely, Jenny Proctor Green Circle Preschool President

Thank You! to our Walk the Block Contributors

Make sure to look on the Parkallen Facebook page to find out the winners of the June 4th- September 4th, 2020 Walk your block challenge. Thank you to Hardy WestMann (Co-operators Insurance ) and Julie Cindric (chief Marshmallow maker) who donated for this challenge. Neighbour Hood Watch will be donating a fit bit to the top walker in Edmonton at the end of this year. If you haven't already, you can sign up for the program at enwatch.ca.

Why Log your Walks?

Logging your walk , distance and time of day is used to determine if and/or how the Walk Your Block program is affecting crime in a neighbourhood and the participation level of a community.

Late evening is when crime in our community generally occurs. Theft of car, garage and sheds have been reported over the last year. Anyone wanting to walk late at night or missed the outdoor self defence class and is interested in participating in another class contact Joslyn at watch@parkallen.ca anåd she can help facilitate . Next walk your block challenge runs from September 4th to December 4th, 2020. The city of Edmonton has donated a lovely gift basket. And Dapper

Beaver ( our new local coffee shop) has donated 6 pounds of coffee.

A Message from Mazurka Music:

On June 20 at 2 PM, in the Parkallen community there was a fundraiser street concert in support of the Edmonton Symphony Orchestra. The host of this event, Jan Hardstaff, did a wonderful job with organizing the performance for our Parkallen residents. The ESO violinists Tatiana Warszynski, Joanna Ciapka Sangster and her daughter, cellist Kaja Sangster, put together several street concerts in different neighborhoods to fundraise money for the ESO. The concerts were very well attended and successful. They received generous donations at every venue. All the money went directly to Winspear/ESO. The Street Concert at Parkallen was also very well received.Tatiana, Joanna and Kaja had a great turnout. People, mostly Parkallen residents, just loved the performance! They were very generous with the donations. The amount of almost $1000 was happily handed out by performers to the ESO representative at the Winspear Centre. As you might know, due to the pandemic, the 2020/21 ESO season was cancelled and the ESO musicians decided to help our orchestra by organizing fundraising street concerts. It has been a very musical summer in Edmonton.

The music performed by the ESO musicians has been resonating in various neighborhoods until now. The musicians have raised $100 K donations! There are also street concerts organized by other music societies for the same reason. Most music societies had to cancel their season with all the amazing concerts due to the pandemic . Mazurka Music and Art Society of Alberta is one of them. In fact there will be a fundraiser street concert here in Parkallen at the crescent on 70th Avenue, hosted again by Jan Hardstaff, in support of this organization to help raise money for its upcoming season 2020/21. Please join the performers for a one hour event on Saturday, September 12th, at 2 PM. Donations are welcome.
